Welcome to The Palm Beaches

Welcome to The Palm Beaches

We welcome you to “Play in The Palm Beaches,” a guide to sport, recreation and experiences from the Palm Beach County Sports Commission!

As a dynamic hub for professional and youth sports, our sports commission supports a myriad of events, which collectively bring nearly 1 million sports visitors to our county each year. While they are here—whether it’s to enjoy our world-class competitions like the PGA Tour’s event in The Palm Beaches, formerly named The Honda Classic and the Winter Equestrian Festival, or to cheer on their family members in youth baseball or swimming—visitors often ask us: What else is there to do in The Palm Beaches?

This comprehensive publication is an answer to that question or, rather, 100-plus potential answers. From our verdant parks and nature centers to our esteemed theaters and museums to our trend-setting golf courses and first-rate shopping centers, The Palm Beaches have something for everyone—not to mention our 47 enviable miles of public beachfront. Whether you’re here for a weekend or a season, or before or after the big event, this guide contains everything you need to know to live like a Palm Beacher. Just bring your game; we’ve got the rest covered.

PGA National Resort

Wellington International

With its 39 cities, towns, villages and colonies nestled among more than 2,300 square miles, Palm Beach County is larger than two states! There is much to explore in our energetic and growing region.

Here are a few highlights from the most happening areas of The Palm Beaches, from the Jupiter Lighthouse to the Boca Inlet.

REGIONS - NORTH

JUPITER

Major League Baseball Spring Training action at Roger Dean Chevrolet Stadium is just the beginning of the experience at this picturesque northern enclave. A visit to the historic, ca. 1860 Jupiter Lighthouse puts you literally on top of the action, while a radiant sunset cruise on a PonTiki party boat connects you with the beautiful Jupiter Inlet below. Kayaking down the legendary "Wild and Scenic" Loxahatchee River is a great way to take in the local flora and fauna, while the newly renovated Maltz Jupiter Theatre offers world-class cultural nourishment.

JUNO BEACH

Eco adventurers take note: Juno Beach is your waterfront paradise, a town brimming with all-natural charms and myriad opportunities to explore the wonders of Mother Earth. Take a dive off Juno Ledge to come face to face with South Florida's most exotic and colorful reef fish, or bring your mukluks and explore the region's 12 coastal native ecosystems, binoculars in hand. Stroll the Juno Dunes Natural Area, and experience an up-close encounter with a glorious sea turtle at Loggerhead Marinelife Center.

PALM BEACH GARDENS

One of The Palm Beaches' most heralded annual sporting events, formerly named The Honda Classic, a major golf event returns to the PGA National Resort in February here in Palm Beach Gardens, bringing the best of the PGA Tour to this spacious and cultivated city. But Palm Beach Gardens is as famous for its shopping as its greens, so no visit is complete without some retail therapy at the famous Gardens Mall and al fresco Downtown Palm Beach Gardens, experiences complete with top-rated restaurants and a multiplex cinema.

RIVIERA BEACH / SINGER ISLAND

Sporty visitors flock, steer and paddle to these twin Edens off the eastern coast of the county's mainland, which bring the unspoiled waters of the Caribbean to The Palm Beaches. With its abundant and diverse marine life, the world-famous Blue Heron Bridge is a delight for divers and snorkelers, while Manatee Lagoon—an FPL Eco-Discovery Center is the ideal spot to observe these gentle sea cows in their natural habitat. Riviera Beach Marina Village is the central gathering spot for boat and kayak rentals, dining and more.

REGIONS – CENTRAL

PALM BEACH

A gilded island with the rich history of being “America’s First Resort Destination,” Palm Beach is home to Worth Avenue, one of the nation’s most famous shopping streets. But its history of luxury hospitality is only one facet of this growing family-friendly destination, with its Instagrammable bougainvillea-draped architecture, and a free Lake Trail offering walkers and cyclists million-dollar views of waterfront mansions. Pan’s Garden, with its iconic sculpture of the fluted Pan of Rohallion, is another complimentary attraction, while the Flagler Museum is a lavish throwback to the island’s opulent heritage.

WEST PALM BEACH

A world of opportunities thrives in the county seat of The Palm Beaches, whose dynamite downtown, filled with dining, culture and retail, is just minutes from Palm Beach International Airport. From Broadway shows to music legends and top comedians, the Kravis Center is the crown jewel of West Palm Beach’s bustling Arts & Entertainment District, while the nearby Norton Museum is a first-rate destination for the visual arts. Enjoy the roar of Lion Country Safari, a one-of-a-kind drive-thru animal attraction, or bring the family to Dreher Park, where the Palm Beach Zoo and Cox Science Center & Aquarium are separated by a 10-minute walk. Or, for a bit more action, visit Okeehchee Park. With over 1,700 acres, it’s an inviting catch-all for sports both common and unusual, including Okeehchee BMX, Palm Beach County’s only BMX race track, and Shark Wake Park, which features five freshwater lakes custom-designed for competition water skiing, making this world-class facility a haven for professional and amateur skiers alike. It also offers the largest floating obstacle course on the East Coast.

LAKE WORTH BEACH

Hip eateries, unique shops and colorful art galleries line the streets of this inviting and offbeat city, a favorite for nightlife and public art. The latter is especially plentiful at the annual Lake

National Polo Center

Worth Street Painting Festival, where artists create transient masterworks on the downtown pavement each February. The Lake Worth Lagoon is a vital resource for eco-tourists to explore the region, while the Cultural Council for Palm Beach County headquarters is the place for visitors to view work from local artists and learn about all of The Palm Beaches' cultural assets.

WELLINGTON

For athletes and sports spectators alike, it's all about the horse play at this illustrious western village, a quiet and homey region that doubles as one of the world's top destinations for equestrian sport. Top riders in polo, dressage and other sports descend on Wellington for annual gatherings like the Winter Equestrian Festival, making the National Polo Center and Wellington International global attractions. The stellar Wellington Environmental Preserve—with its a six-story observation tower—and the popular Wellington Mall continue to increase Wellington's cachet.

BOYNTON BEACH

From the croak of Florida alligators and flutter of great blue herons at the world-famous Arthur R. Marshall Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge to relaxing shopping and dining at Renaissance Commons, this eclectic and emerging city offers enjoyment for a broad spectrum of visitors. Boynton Beach has one of the most active outdoor art districts in all of The Palm Beaches, while its ongoing, 16-acre Town Square redevelopment project is breathing new life to a historic downtown, from an amphitheater to a cultural center to a new retail space.

DELRAY BEACH

A three-time All America City winner and the recipient of Rand-McNally's Most Fun Small Town in America, Delray Beach is famous for its walkable downtown, its quirky public murals and its infinite array of chef-driven restaurants, fashion-forward retailers and free outdoor concerts. Downtown Atlantic Avenue is the place to enjoy all of it, while the Delray Beach Market, just off the beaten path, is the largest food hall in Florida and a destination unto itself. Amid all the bustle, make some time for a visit to the tranquil Zen oasis known as the Morikami Museum and Japanese Gardens.

BOCA RATON

The southern Palm Beaches' linchpin for laid-back luxury, Boca Raton is both resort town and college town, a place where worldly culture and beachy comfort combine. Nestled among historic Mediterranean-revival architecture, Mizner Park and Royal Palm Place offer a bevy of all fresco shopping and dining opportunities. The Boca Raton Museum of Art is one of South Florida's preeminent art museums, while the Town Center Mall is one of the nation's great indoor shopping experiences. College football fans, take note: Boca Raton is also home to Florida Atlantic University, which hosts the nationally televised Boca Raton Bowl each December. And, for soaking up the beautiful Florida sunshine, enjoy a round of golf on the award-winning county-run greens at Boca Raton's Osprey Point Golf Course, with its lush Platinum Paspalum turf.

The Boca Raton Beach Club

Downtown Atlantic Avenue, Delray Beach

Robert Sudler Clark

Lake Okeechobee & The Glades

This earthy region away from it all is your gateway to Lake Okeechobee, the second-largest freshwater lake in the contiguous United States, with unparalleled bass fishing, bird-watching and airboat tours available to visitors who want a taste of Old Florida. The fun extends just outside of the water, too, with an immersive walk or bike on the Lake Okeechobee Scenic Trail. For the astronomically inclined, it also features The Palm Beaches' most unobstructed views of the Milky Way.

THE GOLDEN AGE OF TRAVEL IS BACK

IN THE PALM BEACHES

As America's First Resort Destination®, The Palm Beaches have been the preferred getaway for discerning guests for over 125 years. From Jupiter to Boca Raton, discover sun-kissed beaches, alfresco dining, premier golf courses and world-class shopping. Less crowded and more relaxed, the gentler side of Florida awaits. | ThePalmBeaches.com

10 WAYS TO ENJOY YOUR STAY

Cox Science Center & Aquarium

4801 Dreher Trail N., West Palm Beach
561.832.1988 | coxsciencecenter.org

The joy of learning is ever-present in this community linchpin. Exhibitions such as “The Hidden World of the Everglades” and the unprecedented “Journey Through the Human Brain” bring science and nature alive, while the Conservation Course offers a mini golf experience with an eco-conscious theme. The center also showcases a 10,000-gallon aquarium and a planetarium hosting both laser concerts and educational videos.

Drive Shack

1710 Belvedere Road, West Palm Beach
561.771.5354 | driveshack.com

Most golf courses don't feature space aliens taunting you from the fairway, but Drive Shack isn't like anything else. Merging real golf equipment with augmented reality technology, it allows experienced and amateur players alike to swing at digital monsters or at oversized playing cards in an effort to build a great blackjack hand. A video arcade and on-site, chef-inspired restaurant keep the party going after the 18th hole.

Fun Depot

2003 10th Ave. N., Lake Worth Beach
561.547.0817 | fundepot.com

As its name suggests, this all-inclusive entertainment center in Lake Worth Beach is a one-stop-shop for adolescent escapism. Fun Depot's signature laser tag attraction, “Laser Force,” is played in a black-lit, fog-filled, music-pumping, 4,000-square-foot arena, while a comprehensive gaming arcade and go-cart speedway round out the activities.

Lion Country Safari

2003 Lion Country Safari Road, Loxahatchee
561.793.1084 | lioncountrysafari.com

The numbers tell the story: 900 animals roam seven naturalistic habitats across the 600 acres of this drive-through wildlife center in the western Palm Beaches, where lions, chimpanzees, ostriches and rhinoceroses enjoy a life of cageless freedom. Amusement park rides, the walk-through Safari World, and a water sprayground are included with regular admission; for a small upcharge, visitors can feed the giraffes and lorikeets.

Lion Country Safari, Loxahatchee

Palm Beach Zoo & Conservation Society

1301 Summit Blvd., West Palm Beach
561.547.9453 | palmbeachzoo.org

Home to hundreds of animals from 190 species—many of them endangered—The Palm Beaches' only zoo doubles as an ecologically minded non-profit aiming to preserve threatened species. It is home to everything from llamas and tigers to a rare white alligator and American flamingoes. For an extra price, the Sloth Experience, which offers an opportunity to mingle with the two-toed mammal up close, is an experience to remember.

Putt'n Around

350 N.E. Fifth Ave., Delray Beach
561.450.6162 | puttnaround.net

Billing itself as “not your average mini golf,” this quirky 36-hole attraction in trendy Delray Beach features two courses constructed around a botanical garden, and designed with tropical, Florida-inspired themes. The on-site 19th Hole restaurant serves adult and family beverages and food, which can be delivered hole-side.

Morikami Museum and Japanese Gardens

4000 Morikami Park Road, Delray Beach
561.495.0233 | morikami.org

With its fountains and bridges, its koi ponds and bonsai collection, the Morikami is one of the most Instagrammable spots in South Florida: a place for lazy strolling, for meditation, for spotting wild rabbits and absorbing thunderous taiko drum performances. Plus, you can venture inside the museum for the irresistible gift shop, art exhibitions and traditional Japanese nosh.

Rapids Waterpark

6566 N. Military Trail, Riviera Beach
561.848.6272 | rapidswaterpark.com

Everyone enjoys taking the plunge at this premier Florida water park, from the most adventurous teenagers to tykes just getting introduced to waves. Inventive rides like Big Thunder, Black Thunder and Brain Drain are signature attractions here, and are not for the faint of heart, while family-friendly rides like Baby Blue and Old Yeller offer enjoyment without an elevated pulse rate. Consider upping the rest and relaxation with the purchase of an amenity-filled cabana rental.

Turtle Power

Two institutions of The Palm Beaches—one in the northern region, the other in the south—specialize in the tracking, rehabilitation and advocacy of Florida's sea turtles, with fascinating programming to support their missions. The Turtle Walks at Gumbo Limbo Nature Center provide up-close views of nesting sea turtles on the beaches of Boca Raton, while Loggerhead Marinelifelife Center hosts Sea Turtle Sleepovers featuring tours of its resident turtles.

THE ULTIMATE WEEK OF SPORTS

THE PALM BEACHES

It's good to be a sports fan in The Palm Beaches. Not only are there more than 160 golf courses, scores of water sports and many other outdoor activities to choose from year-round, but one week in February brings together an elite slate of sporting events that we dub the Ultimate Week of Sports.

During six action-packed days in February, you can catch five different professional sports around The Palm Beaches—including polo, PGA golf, professional tennis, professional show jumping and Major League Baseball Spring Training.

THE ULTIMATE WEEK OF SPORTS

Here's our day-by-day guide.

Delray Beach Open-ATP Tennis

Come see elite tennis, both past and present, at the Delray Beach Open—the only tournament in the world to feature both the ATP World Tour and fan-favorite ATP Champions Tour. Spanning more than 28 years, the tournament draws more than 60,000 spectators over 10 days.

Gauntlet of Polo®

Palm Beach International Polo Season rides into town January through April. Throughout those 16 weeks, the world's finest horses, preeminent teams and most skilled players will be competing for the prestigious Gauntlet of Polo®.

In the ultimate survival of the fittest, the Gauntlet of Polo comprises three elite tournaments: the C.V. Whitney Cup®, the USPA Gold Cup® and the U.S. Open Polo Championship®. Any team that consecutively sweeps all three tournaments will earn its place in history as the Gauntlet champion. General admission tickets are available.

Winter Equestrian Festival

Taking place at Wellington International, this long-running festival is considered the world's premier winter gathering of horses and riders. The 12-week show sees only the best riders of their class, including Olympians, adult amateurs, juniors and children from 52 countries and all 50 states.

During Week 7 of the Winter Equestrian Festival in Wellington, you can watch elite show jumping and hunter competition. The highlight event of the week will be the Lugano Diamonds Grand Prix CSI5*, which will showcase some of the world's best equestrians, on Saturday evening. In addition to the impressive displays of equestrian sport, spectators will enjoy entertainment, a large variety of vendors and family-friendly children's activities.

PGA Tour Championship

Formerly known as The Honda Classic, this tournament has been bringing top PGA TOUR talent to The Palm Beaches since 2003, providing a week of entertainment and one of the finest fan experiences around. The tournament features a field of hundreds of players and a multimillion-dollar purse, with net proceeds benefiting the locally based Children's Healthcare Charity.

The competition takes place on the world-renowned Champion Course at PGA National Resort. Originally designed by Tom and George Fazio, and redesigned by links legend Jack Nicklaus, the course is best known for "The Bear Trap"—a daunting three-hole stretch that is known as one of the biggest challenges in golf. Spectators can check out the shopping area with the new U.S. Polo Assn. apparel shop on-site this year. Be there for the first round.

Sportsnet

Major League Baseball Spring Training at Ballpark of The Palm Beaches

Spring Training is a can't-miss experience in The Palm Beaches, where the teams of the Grapefruit League warm up for the regular season under the South Florida sun. The Ballpark of The Palm Beaches in West Palm Beach is the Spring Training home of not one but two World Series competitors: the world-champion Houston Astros and the former world-champion Washington Nationals. See the big-league action from a blanket on the Banana Boat Lawn, or snag a stadium or Field Box seat for an up-close view of some of the best players in the game. Be sure to visit the Craft Corner, where a variety of beer flows from 32 tap handles.

Major League Baseball Spring Training at Roger Dean Chevrolet Stadium

Can't get enough of America's pastime? Head a few miles north to Jupiter's Roger Dean Chevrolet Stadium, where the St. Louis Cardinals and Miami Marlins spend their Spring Training. With unparalleled player access and close-up encounters with veteran stars and up-and-coming prospects alike, the Spring Training experience here is truly one-of-a-kind. Settle in for a Grapefruit League showdown with a hot dog and a local craft beer.

African American Golfers Hall of Fame Ceremony is Another Hole in One

Palm Beach County Commissioner Mack Bernard presented the AAGHOF with a proclamation, at the Riviera Beach Event Center, with 2021 attendees.

Malachi Knowles, Founder Inner City Youth Golfers, Inc.; African American Golfers Hall of Fame; and African American Collegiate & Youth Golfers Hall of Fame

To purchase tickets, to learn more, or to support its mission with the purchase of branded golf shirts and hats, visit africanamericangolfershalloffame.com.

Continuing its mission to promote inclusivity in sports, the African American Golfers Hall of Fame (AAGHOF) hosted its 17th annual celebration in the spring of 2022. The Palm Beaches' only hall of fame that recognizes organizations and individuals on a national level, the Riviera Beach-based AAGHOF honors outstanding contributions to the sport of golf from a historically under-represented demographic.

The four-day event included educational roundtables, a golf tournament at The Club at Ibis in West Palm Beach, a fish fry and the annual induction ceremony. Among the 2022 inductees Phyllis Gillespie, Esq.; David Hicks Hinton, III; Thomas Griffis, Sr.; Joseph P. Steranka; Kendall Murphy, PGA; Angela Moody; Stanley V. Campbell; Driving Force Women's Golf Club + Cindy Green Ashley; Lucius Bateman; Kevin Hall, PGA; Kevin L. Jennings, Sr.; and Malcolm Kirven.

In addition to garnering national exposure and acknowledgements for Palm Beach County in the broader world of professional athletics, the AAGHOF serves as a beacon for inclusiveness in sports and furthers diversity within the great game of golf.

The African American Golfers Hall of Fame generally hosts its annual awards celebration each May.

Lake Worth Lagoon is a valuable urban estuary, not just because of its appealing charm but for its incredible habitat. Two permanent, man-made inlets—the Lake Worth Inlet and the South Lake Worth Inlet—make it possible for saltwater to mix with freshwater from canals. This creates a fine environment for marine life to thrive: seagrass, mangroves, sea turtles, oyster reefs, wading birds, crabs, more than 250 fish species and, of course, exotic creatures coming in from the ocean.

CULTURE CLASH

African-American History Trail

The Palm Beaches teem with heritage landmarks honoring its vibrant African-American history. Here are a few of these destinations from Delray Beach to West Palm Beach.

The lynchpin of Black history in The Palm Beaches, the Spady Cultural Heritage Museum (170 N.W. Fifth Ave., Delray Beach; 561.279.8883) honors Solomon D. Spady, a pioneering Delray Beach educator and community leader, and offers exhibitions, annual events and “Ride & Remember” trolley tours celebrating the African-American history and influence in The Palm Beaches, all from its location in Spady’s historic home.

While in the Delray Beach area, stop by the B.F. James & Frances Jane Bright Mini-Park on the east side of Northwest Fifth Avenue, 100 feet south of Northwest First Street. Read the bronze marker commemorating the history of this location and its role connecting the African-American population during the dark days of Jim Crow.

Traveling north to West Palm Beach, visit the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Landmark at Currie

Park (2200 N. Flagler Drive; 561.804.4900). The memorial features an impressive bronze bust of the civil rights leader reading a Bible, positioned in front of a curved granite wall bearing quotes and events from King’s life.

Continue your West Palm Beach history trail at the Northwest Neighborhood Historic District (North Rosemary and Douglas avenues, bounded by Northwest Second and 11th streets), a once-segregated portion of West Palm Beach whose buildings were designed by African-American builders, contractors and architects. The district is home to the 1893-vintage Tabernacle Church (801 Eighth St., West Palm Beach; 561.832.8338), which boasts the only Neo-Romanesque Revival architecture in the Northwest District. It also

GREEN PARTY

The Honda Classic, Palm Beach Gardens

As Florida's Golf Capital®, The Palm Beaches offer more than 160 golf courses, many of whose greens were designed by some of the game's top architects.

Moreover, no country club or special membership is required to play at such beautiful, award-winning county-run greens as Boca Raton's Osprey Point Golf Course, with its lush Platinum Paspalum turf, and West Palm Beach's Okeeheelee Golf Course, a 27-hole mainstay for more than 20 years that doubles as a wildlife sanctuary. Just schedule your tee times and enjoy the views!

With such an ideal climate for the links, it's no wonder why two of the PGA's top tournaments are hosted here.

A major PGA tournament formerly known as The Honda Classic is hosted each February on the immaculate grounds of the Champion Course at PGA National Resort, where the PGA Tour's top players compete for an $8 million purse. In late October, the TimberTech Championship brings golf's greatest to Boca Raton's venerable Old Course at Broken Sound for a $2 million purse.

Polo in The Palm Beaches

U.S. Polo Assn., the official brand of the United States Polo Association (USPA), is proud to be based in Palm Beach County and to sponsor the U.S. Polo Assn. Stadium at the world-class USPA National Polo Center (NPC) - Wellington, the “Winter Equestrian Capital of the World.”

NPC is where some of the world’s best players and their equine partners come to compete in the most exciting and prestigious games in American polo, including the Westchester Cup, one of the oldest rivalries in polo between England and the U.S., the USPA Gold Cup®, and the U.S. Open Polo Championship®, the thrilling finale of high-goal polo season at NPC.

A historic, multi-year agreement with ESPN now brings the games taking place right here in Wellington to millions of homes and on-demand devices around the world! This includes the U.S. Open Polo Championship, the U.S. Open Women’s Polo Championship®, and the National Intercollegiate Championship, among others, now broadcast on ESPN platforms.

No other brand is closer to the sport of polo than the multi-billion-dollar, global U.S. Polo Assn. brand, which is bringing everything polo to Palm Beach County and beyond. U.S. Polo Assn. offers classic, sport-inspired apparel and accessories for men, women, and children, as well as accessories and footwear in more than 190 countries worldwide. International Gay Polo Brings LGBTQ Equity to the Forefront

For five days each April, the National Polo Center, the only high-goal polo venue in North America, opens its fields exclusively to LGBTQ competitors. The International Gay Polo Tournament, created to generate awareness and to move the needle forward for LGBTQ athletes, has become a fixture in the Palm Beaches, merging challenging horse sport with a lively atmosphere, complete with themed tailgate parties, DJ-spun dance music and pop-up salons, creating a wholly unique spin on the centuries-old game of polo.

It's just one of the ways the Palm Beaches supports diversity, equity and inclusion, both on and off the field, among players and spectators alike. Palm Beach County and its LGBTQ-centered organizations offer a safe and welcoming atmosphere year-round, while annual events such as the two-day Palm Beach Pride parade (each March) and Stonewall Black and White Ball (each June) shine a spotlight on the community. In fact, West Palm Beach recently ranked 10th in the United States in Hotels.com's list of the 10 friendliest LGBTQ cities in the country. To be "out" in the Palm Beaches is to be among friends.
